Natasha Barnes will be launching her exhibition entitled "Against The Wind", at the Kizo Art Gallery in Gateway on the 9th December 2008. The exhibition will run until the 10th January 2009.

Natasha is one of South Africa's most internationally published artists. Despite being represented in The United Kingdom, throughout the U.S., Europe, The Middle East, Australia and others, she has remained a relatively undiscovered gem in South Africa.

Natasha lives and works from KwaZulu Natal but has spent much of her time traveling the world exhibiting at many of the most prestigious international art expo's.

She has had extensive media coverage in The United States including national TV interviews and the like.

Whilst she loves her chosen profession, her life has not always been simple and hence the exhibitions title "Against The Wind".

Kizo is proud to exhibit the powerful and dramatic abstract works by this talented artist and is excited that Natasha has managed to take the time from her hectic international program in order to finally show the KZN audience what we until now have been missing.
